Springfield Public Library Temporarily Closed

The Springfield Public Library and the Library Meeting Room in Springfield City Hall are closed today, September 10 and tomorrow September 11 due to some localized flooding from a ruptured water heater tank.

Crews are already at work cleaning up the water and Library staff hopes to re-open Wednesday, September 12. Updates on the Library's operating hours will be posted to its Facebook page at <https://www.facebook.com/springfieldpubliclibrary/>.

Community members may continue returning items in the book drop, and accessing online services.

There is no estimate available for any damage that results from the flooding. The Library's collection has not been damaged.
