

- 1) Flanery House 315 5th St., c. 1920: This Colonial style house was built for Floyd & Gertrude Flanery. The Flanery's were both pharmacists who owned a drug store on Main Street.

- 2) Rebhan House 448 5th St., c. 1923: Dr. W.C. Rebhan was a surgeon who practiced at Mercy Hospital in Eugene. This typical Bungalow style house was built for the doctor and his wife Olive Jane Ferris. Olive worked as a nurse at Mercy Hospital.

- 3) Jess Seavey House 448 'D' St., c. 1900: This large Craftsman style house was owned by J.A. Seavey for over 20 years. The Seavey brothers were prominent hop farmers from the 1880s through 1937.

- 4) Larimer House 434 'D' St., c. 1885: This vernacular style house is one of the oldest remaining structures in the District. The house has a truncated hipped roof and was designed by Isaac Larimer. The wrap around porch is supported by turned wood columns.

5) Perkins House 346 'D' St., c. 1907: Craftsman Bungalow style house.

6) Stevens House 706 5th St., c.1910: Welby Stevens and his family owned this single story Bungalow up through the 1950s. Stevens was Mayor of Springfield in 1911 & 1912 and cast the deciding votes allowing Springfield to remain a "wet" town.

7) Bill Wright House 660 'E' St., c. 1923: The steep gable roof, casement windows and arched portal give this house a "Normandy style." One of the first owners was Bill Wright, a local hardware store owner.

- 8) Reverend Moore House 535 'E' St., c. 1923: This vernacular style house was designed by architect John Hunzicker. Reverend Moore was a pastor at the Methodist Church of Springfield.

- 9) Hughes House 546 5th St., c. 1918: This Craftsman style house is named for William Hughes, a prominent Springfield banker during the 1920s. Hughes was City Treasurer from 1923 - 1926.

- 10) May House 546 'D' St., c. 1924: Craftsman style Bungalow house.

11) McKlin House 606 'D' St., c. 1912: Merton McKlin, a prominent builder, designed & constructed this house for his wife Civility. The house is an excellent example of a Craftsman style Bungalow.

12) Stewart House 734 'D' St., c. 1906: This Queen Anne/ vernacular style house has drop siding.

13) Cox House 406 8th St., c. 1910: This vernacular style house has a 'Y' shaped front porch supported by fluted columns. James A. Cox was most likely the builder.

14) Catching House 346 7th St., c. 1908: This Colonial Revival style house was built & first owned by George Catching.

15) Ebbert Church & Parsonage 530 'C' St., c. 1916: The church and parsonage were designed by Albert J. Crandall and built by T. J. McCracken. The church features Povey Brothers leaded glass windows.

