- Wet soil Shade

Looking for ways to make your yard more sustainable? Plant native vegetation! These diverse species evolved here in the Willamette Valley and don't need as much attention and resources as other plants. Using them in your landscaping creates habitat for wildlife and beneficial bugs, conserves water, and reduces the need for pesticides and fertilizers that can wash into the stormwater system and pollute local rivers and streams.

The City of Springfield's Stormwater Team works with you to help keep the Willamette and McKenzie Rivers clean. These are their top plant picks: great for your landscaping and our landscape!
