

	<h1>Crime Analyst I</h1> <h1>Crime Analyst II</h1>
General Information
Classification Code:	MGTANL
Effective Date:	April 12, 2022
Pay Grade:	C41 – C42
FLSA Status:	Exempt

Position Summary

The Crime Analyst performs complex professional and statistical analysis related to law enforcement data, including evaluation of use of force and criminal activity trends and patterns; performs research, prepares reports, and disseminates information used in making business decisions; assists with administering database and tracking systems, maintaining datasets, and presenting information in a variety of formats; and performs related duties as required.

Classification Characteristics

The Crime Analyst position fall under the Management Analyst classification. Management Analysts make process decisions and decide how to best achieve the objectives, standards or guidelines established at higher levels and may include supervision of lower-level support staff or lead responsibilities. The Management Analyst is a broad professional classification that encompasses incumbents engaged in a wide range of analytical, research, budget management, and program management activities.

Crime Analyst I - Employees at this level generally have minimal professional experience and perform more day-to-day routine and recurring activities for which there are defined processes, procedures, instructions, models, and precedents. Operates at the tactical and transactional levels. As experience is acquired, employees are expected to perform with increasing independence. This level requires a general knowledge of basic analytical processes and program knowledge and the ability to interpret a variety of data.

Crime Analyst II – This is the fully journey level in the Management Analyst series. The Crime Analyst II differs from the Management Analyst I by the level of complexity, sensitive, independence, and the diversity of assignments. Employees assigned to this classification have full responsibility for a variety of diverse data analysis activities, including developing and/or refining policies, procedures, and related items. Employees have also demonstrated the knowledge and the ability to deal independently with complex and sensitive issues; lead or manage small to mid-sized projects; they work independently with minimal supervision and receive only occasional instructions or assistance as new or unusual situations arise.

After an employee has been employed at the entry level in a flexibly staffed classification for a period of at least one (1) year, the employee may be advanced to the journey level subject to the following:

- The employee meets the minimum qualifications for the journey level.
- The employee is performing journey level duties at an acceptable level.
