SPRING 2007 PROGRAM CALENDAR Springfield Adult Services Department

THE HAUNTING WAR: AN AMERICAN TRAGEDY REVISITED

Sat. March 10th, 1:00 PM – Library Meeting Room at City Hall

The intensity of the Civil War left scars that remained long after the fever of battle had died away. Nationally-recognized Civil War educators William and Carla Coleman return in a new production using words from actual letters & diaries, period music and hand-sewn costumes to create vignettes that bring it all to life. An Oregon Chautauqua production funded by the Oregon Council for the Humanities.

SPRING POETRY READING

Tues. April 10th, 7:00 PM – Library Meeting Room at City Hall

April is National Poetry Month! And the Springfield Public Library once more joins forces with the local chapter of the Oregon State Poetry Association in bringing you three area writers who will share their work and read from their own poetry. Come join us on a lovely spring evening celebrating creativity.

APRONS: MEMORIES FROM THE PAST

Sat. May 12th, 1:00 PM – Library Meeting Room at City Hall

Just in time for Mother's Day! Bobbe Schafer, designer and creator of aprons, uses slides of vintage apron styles and her own collection of over 100 historical aprons to share with you the unique joys of this American folk art. Bring your mother or daughter – or just a friend! – for a real Mother's Day treat.

FIND EVERYTHING! THE SPRINGFIELD PUBLIC LIBRARY ONLINE

Thurs. June 7th, 9-11 AM

The Library partners with the OASIS educational program to provide a free class in searching the latest version of the Library's web-based catalog. Gain new skills and confidence in finding the materials you need. If you are age 50 or better, you may register for this valuable class through OASIS by calling 342-6611, extension 2601. Class limit of twelve.
