"Dreams: Our Forgotten Spiritual Language" is the title of a presentation to be given Tuesday, Jan. 23rd at 7:00 p.m. in the Library Meeting Room. The free one-hour program, given by Springfield resident Peter Fritsch, will provide an introduction to how dreams and spirituality are interrelated and can provide invaluable insight into our inner lives.

Fritsch, a self-styled renaissance man, is both an insurance agent and a priest who has studied Jungian dream analysis, and has taught dream work and spiritual direction in retreat centers around the country. He is author of the book "A Moment of Great Power: Sacramental Prayer and Generational Healing." Fritsch also teaches seminars on "Raising Financially Responsible Children" in local schools, and volunteers with the Springfield Chamber of Commerce and the Springfield Museum.
