Quick update on public art. Don Gustavson has started taking photographs to archive the downtown murals. He's done with the Jessie Bostelle Memorial Mural, which the building liaison said would potentially start coming down at the beginning of June. We will be housing the photographs in the public art subcommittee folder on the google drive. Amy is sending the honorarium with a thank you letter. I was hoping we could do some sort of op-ed or outreach to "say goodbye" to the mural, and let people know that we have archived it prior to the removal, but we have a lot of other things on our plate, so maybe something to consider next time we lose a mural. Not to be negative, but these things happen.
