RE: Mill Street Reconstruction Project Update

Dear Property Owner/Resident:

The design for the Mill Street Reconstruction Project is wrapping up and is expected to be completed this spring. The project is expected to go to bid in May, and the contractor will be selected in July. The right of way process is underway, and all impacted property owners have been contacted by ODOT. Negotiations for the temporary construction easements should be completed in April. If you have not been contacted by ODOT that means your property will not be impacted by the project. The utility relocation designs are complete and utility companies will begin required relocation work starting in March. The general timeline is provided below and additional information will be shared as it becomes available.
